

COURSE OUTCOMES Anthropology Hons.

CC1: Emergence of Physical Anthropology as a discipline of Anthropology and the application of physical /biological anthropology knowledge on human welfare and development such as eradication of racial conflict, control of genetic disease etc best on racial classification.

CC2: Understanding of different society and culture, social institution, social norm, values, tradition, believe etc and cross-cultural study of social cultural behaviour regarding social institution. Application of different methods and techniques for data collection related to human behaviour for justifying human as social-cultural being.

CC3: To know about archaic culture in the world best on environmental and cultural evidences exercising different dating methods.

CC4: Discussion on how modern bipedal human being appear on the earth from primate to modern human through ape man best on bio-cultural interaction.

CC5: To know about Tribe, its character and changes with march of time and movement for protecting ethnicity and ethnic identity, Constitutional safeguard and draft national tribal policy for protection and welfare of tribes. Discussion on peasantry, its characteristic feature and recent changes more precisely on caste system and its recent changes best on peasant movement.

CC6: To know about emergence of civilization and state formation from pre-state cultural stage with different adaptive role developing on different ecological stress.

CC7: Illustration of different race/ethnic groups of Indian population and impact of different bio-cultural factor on disease and nutritional status depending on genetic diversity.

SEC-1: To know about brief history and subject matter of business and corporate anthropology. Application of anthropological knowledge in Industry, business management and role of anthropology in globalization and international trade. Discussion on consumer behaviour and techniques of fieldwork for business organization.

CC8: Illustration of emergence of anthropology and fieldwork. Discussion on different theories on culture change and rules regarding culture study.

CC9: To study about different stages of human growth, physique and body composition and somatotyping. To discuss about nutritional epidemiology and nutritional status related to food nutrition and diet.

CC10: Broad discussion on different types of researches and methods used in anthropology and application of anthropological methods and techniques for collecting empirical data. To know about ethics and politics related to research which should be maintained by researcher and analysis of data and characterization. To study about different types of variables and different methods used in distribution of variables and use of different tests for analysis of variants for inference.

SEC-2: Broad discussion on tourism and study of the society and culture in the light of tourism on temporary migration, colonial exploration, pilgrimage and visiting relatives etc. To gain a brief ideas on implication of tourism on cross-cultural interaction and cultural degradation. To understand the ideas about the global and local political economy of contemporary tourism, eco-tourism and sustainable development. To discuss about knowledge of anthropology in development and planning of tourism and to find out the lacuna of terrorism related to tourism.

CC11: Detail study on application of Mendelian laws on human based on different process of genetic changes and admixture which are responsible for phenotypic and genotypic characteristics of human being.

CC12: Discussion on application of anthropological knowledge in formation of human developmental schemes and application of anthropological knowledge eradicating hindrances of during development to carry on it at national and international level. To discuss about constitutional provision and planning of development of Indian population and broad discussion on human rights and duties and how to protect it.

DSE - :1 Understanding on building of Physical fitness through different tanning techniques and intake of food and nutrients. To know about selection of athletes

Best on body composition and adaptation with stresses of heat cold and altitude and to bestow brief ideas on doping and performances

DSE-2: To learn about human evolution from early hominid behaviour to human bipedalism deluding on the lustration of fossil

Evidences and tools found with them understanding the disease and its spread due to agriculture urbanization slavery and colonisation.

CC13: To study the ideas about forensic anthropology and application of the knowledge of biological anthropology in forensic science for personal identification and individualization based on anthropometry, occupational marks, bite marks, foot and finger print, bloodstain, urine, semen, salvia, facial reconstruction and DNA profiling etc.

CC14: Discussion on the diversity of Indian social stratum best on traditional and contemporary social and cultural value to know about Indian village and the impact of market economy on the village and the impact of market economy on the village .Broad discussion on on Indian tribal situation and the distress condition of tribal and rural people due to national development.

DSE-3: Understanding Antiquity of Indian tribes, and their racial elements, classification and their arts and aesthetic culture. To know about tribe-caste continuum and problems related to their development and pattern of social changes of Indian tribes due to occupational shift and globalization.

DSE-4: Project work- Writing up a dissertation or one paper on any topic from the elective discipline course. Under the guidance of any one departmental professor.